FRENZIED FARMER.

Benj. Franklin Weissinger Shot and Killed His Two Brothers Near Pottsville, Pa.

ATTEMPTED LIFE OF SISTER-IN-LAW

Double Murderer Then Fired Twice at His Sister, But His Aim Was Bad.

Barricaded Himself in the Barn and Held a Large Posse of Policemen at Bay For Nine Hours Before Being Captured.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 3.—Worked into a frenzy as a result of an altercation with one of his brothers, Benjamin Franklin Weissinger, living on the farm several miles from this city, shot and killed his brothers, Louis and Frederick, attempted to kill his sister and sister-in-law, and held a large posse at bay for nine hours before he was captured. The tragedy occurred on the farm of the father of the men. Benjamin and Frederick had a quarrel over the cleaning of a horse. During the altercation Benjamin fired four shots at Frederick without any of them taking effect. Frederick fled to the attic of the farm house and was followed to the house by the enraged brother. The latter secured a Winchester repeating rifle and as he was leaving the house he encountered another brother, Louis, at the kitchen door. Without a word of warning Benjamin fired at Louis, the bullet striking him in the side. The victim fell unconscious and died in half an hour without uttering a word.

The murderer then walked down a path and caught a glimpse of Frederick, who was looking out of the window. Benjamin quickly raised his rifle and fired. The bullet entered Frederick's cheek and penetrated the brain. He fell dead across the window sill. His wife, who had gone to the attic with him, attempted to drag the body into the room. She succeeded in this, but not before Benjamin had fired several shots at her without effect. The double murderer's attention was then attracted to his sister, Mary, who had gone out of the house to persuade him from doing any more shooting. She persisted so strongly that he turned his rifle upon her and fired twice, but his aim was bad. The young woman escaped into the house.

Having realized what he had done and fearing arrest, Benjamin decided to barricade himself in the barn. He went into the house, secured a shotgun, several revolvers and ammunition and then took up his position in the barn. Every attempt the authorities made to approach the barn was met with several shots from Weissinger, and reinforcements were sent for.

When Sheriff Smith appeared on the scene a ruse was planned to capture the man. A long parley was held with the murderer and he agreed to let the two farm hands bring him his supper. The men were instructed to watch the opportunity, seize him by the arms and shout, which would be the signal for the deputies to rush in. This they did and a terrible struggle took place. The murderer is a powerful man, but the force of numbers was too much for him and he was tied hand and foot before he could further use his weapons. He was brought to this city Monday night, and will be given a hearing after the funeral of his brothers.

Weissinger is believed to be insane. His mind is said to have been falling for some time. He had nothing to say regarding the tragedy except that he exclaimed, "I am bewitched."

PREFERRED DEATH TO PRISON.

Wife Murdered Surrendered and Immediately Shot Himself.

Centerville, Mich., Nov. 3.—Brought to bay in a swamp by bloodhounds and a posse of citizens and officers, Floyd Lamb, who on Saturday murdered his wife and wounded his mother-in-law at the latter's home in Florence township, surrendered at noon Monday and immediately shot himself dead, shouting to his captors that he preferred death to prison. Threats of lynching had been made.

THE HUNTER CASE.

Appellate Judge Settle Dissolved Judge Faulkner's Injunction.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.—Appellate Judge W. E. Settle, sitting in special session here, Monday night dissolved the injunction issued by Judge Faulkner enjoining the county clerks of the Eleventh district from placing on the ballots the name of Dr. Godfrey Hunter as the republican nominee for congress at a special election to be held November 10. The decision practically leaves the case where it was when the fight for the seat of the late Vincent Boreing began. The Eleventh district committee Monday night at London, Ky., certified Edwards as the nominee and Hunter took an appeal to the state central committee. As the state central committee does not meet until November 4 in Louisville it now seems impossible for either of the republican contestants to get their names on the ballot, no matter how the committee may decide. It would take at least three days to reach the clerks of some of the remote mountain counties in the district and certify the name of the successful contestant leaving only three more days in which to have the ballots printed and distributed. Some of the counties have no printing presses in their borders.

KIDNAPERS NEAR LOUISVILLE.

Two Little Girls Were Taken From the Residence of Their Aunt.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.—Bessie Lay and Maggie Lay, respectively 9 and 7 years old, were kidnapped Saturday evening from the residence of their aunt, Mrs. Charles Miller, on the Bardstown road. A stranger gave them candy, and after placing them in a buggy in which a woman sat, closely veiled, drove away. They were pursued by Charles Miller. James Lay, the father of the children, secured their custody when he obtained a divorce from his wife two years ago. She denies any knowledge of the children's whereabouts.

Cigar Makers' Union Loses.

Newport, Ky., Nov. 3.—The case of Josephine Holtman against Robert Anstead, Henry Becker, George Dalheim, John P. Heidel and others, officers of the Cigar Makers' union, for $200 for benefits was tried by a jury in Judge Hodge's court Monday morning. The defendants claimed that the deceased was out of work for eight weeks previous to his death; that he received all the benefits due him, and that he had been dropped from membership because of arrearages in dues. The plaintiff denied the allegations and the jury brought in a verdict for the full amount claimed by plaintiff.

Fixed Judge's Salary.

Newport, Ky., Nov. 3.—The fiscal court, in session at Alexandria, fixed the salary of the circuit judge at $2,000 per annum. This, with the $3,000 allowed by the state, makes $5,000. Commonwealth attorney was allowed $1,000 as county's share of his salary.

A BAND OF INDIANS

Sheriff's Posse Had a Fight With Them and 10 Were Killed and 11 Captured.

THE BALANCE MADE THEIR ESCAPE

Five Hundred Men, Including the Posse, Are Scouring the Country in Eastern Wyoming.

The Redskins, Supposed to Be Sioux From the Pine Ridge and Rosebud Agencies, Are Led By Charlie Carries Elk.

Denver, Col., Nov. 3.—Five hundred men, including sheriff's posses, augmented by volunteers from the ranches adjacent, are scouring the country in the vicinity of Lightning Creek, in Eastern Wyoming, in search of the band of Indians which Saturday night fought a battle with Sheriff Miller's posse, killing the sheriff and one deputy named Fossenburg. Sunday afternoon a second battle was fought and ten Indians were killed and 11 others captured. None of the posse was killed in the second fight.

News from the scene of the trouble, which is 25 miles from telegraphic communication, is very meager.

The Indians, 75 in number, are said to be under the leadership of Charlie Carries Elk, are supposed to be Sioux from the Pine Ridge and Rosebud agencies in South Dakota. They have been hunting in the Converse country, Wyoming, in violation of the game laws of the state. Sheriff Miller, with a posse, went to the scene of their depredations last Saturday and for the purpose of arresting the Indians. The Indians had received warning of the coming of the whites, and prepared an ambush for them. The posse would have been entirely wiped out but for the fact that they were proceeding cautiously and were in a measure prepared for some trick on the part of the Indians.

At the first volley from the Indians Sheriff Miller and his deputies hastily ran to cover and then ensued a genuine Indian fight. The whites found refuge behind trees and boulders.

It is thought that at least six Indians were killed and several others wounded, among the latter being Eagle Feather, a sub-chief.

The battle lasted almost an hour, when the Indians began to make their escape by ones and twos on horseback. They carried their dead and wounded with them and are now believed to be well on their way to Bad Lands, in Nebraska. The officers did not attempt to follow but sent a courier to Lusk, the nearest telegraph office, with a message to Gov. Chatterton apprising him of what had occurred.

The news of the battle spread rapidly and every ranchman for miles around armed himself and joined one of the numerous posses hastily organized to punish the Crows. The government wired the interior department at Washington that the Indians must be immediately arrested.

For the past two weeks the band of Indians has been in Northern Wyoming slaughtering game in violation of the laws. In addition, the settlers have been complaining bitterly that the Indians have been killing and stealing their cattle. Settlers warned the leaders of the band to leave the country, but the redskins only laughed at them. They claimed that the government had so reduced the amount of the rations that they were forced to kill game to keep from starving. Charlie Carries Elk openly declared that if he and his followers were driven too far they would fight.

The law firm of which Mr. Scott is a member represented Mrs. Molineaux in her recent divorce litigation in this state.

THE FOOTBALL SPECIAL.

Officials Say the Crew Was Responsible for the Wreck.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3.—After an official investigation by the Big Four officials into the cause of the wreck Saturday morning which lasted until late Monday night, General Superintendent Van Winkle, of the company, said the crew in charge of the football special was responsible for the wreck because they failed to exercise the required precaution. Engineer W. H. Schumaker, of the special, is to blame because he did not have his train under control. He said all engineers of passenger trains should run inside city limits with their trains under control in case they find switching engines ahead and in this case the engineer was running 25 miles an hour with a heavy train and a light engine which did not have control of the train and it was impossible to stop in time.

THE MISSING MILLIONAIRE.

Banks knew nothing of the report that $100,000 had been demanded as a ransom for Wentz's return to his family.

ORDNANCE CORPS.

Rr. Adm. O'Neil, in His Report, Recommends That One Be Established in the Navy.

SHOULD ENLARGE GUN FACTORY.

Army Offers to Manufacture 24 8-Inch and 24 7-Inch Guns Within Thirty Months.

True Cause of the Explosion on Board the Iowa Last Winter, Resulting in Three Deaths, Will Always Be a Mystery.

Washington, Nov. 3.—To aid the navy in maintaining the 918 guns necessary for the 25 battleships, armored and protected cruisers and gunboats now under construction or contracted for, Rr. Adm. Charles O'Neil, chief of ordnance, in his annual report made public Monday, reports that the navy call for assistance on the army gun factory at Watervliet and on private concerns, and that congress appropriate $1,000,000 for the general increase of the navy gun factory at Washington. He says that after a careful study of the situation he believes this to be the most judicious solution of a very serious situation. This recommendation is not in accordance with the report of the board of officers appointed to pass on the needed additions to the gun factory, which recommended the enlargement of the factory at a cost of nearly $4,000,000 and the practical monopoly by the government of gun manufacture.

The army has offered to manufacture 24 8-inch and 24 7-inch guns within 30 months. Establishment of an ordnance corps in the navy is another important recommendation of the chief of ordnance who says in his report that it is no exaggeration to say that should one or two officers now on duty in the bureau be detached without proper relief—and proper reliefs are very hard to find—the most important duties of the bureau would practically come to a standstill and serious embarrassment would follow.

Of the explosion on board the Iowa last winter of one of the 12-inch guns, resulting in the death of three men, Adm. O'Neil says: "The true cause will always be a mystery."

London, Nov. 3.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Mail reports a serious affray at Chemulpo, Corea, between Russian bluejackets belonging to the gunboat Boar and Japanese bluejackets from the cruiser Chiyoda and a number of Japanese residents of Chemulpo. Ten Japanese and several Russians were injured.

The Russian government has decided to expel all of the Japanese living along the route of the Manchurian railroad, having discovered, it is alleged, that many of them were spies.

MINISTER BEAUPRE.

It May Be a Long Time Before He Returns to Panama.

Washington, Nov. 3.—It was intimated at the state department Monday that it might be a long time before United States Minister Beaupre returned to Panama, once he departs on his leave of absence. The inference is that the minister will stay away as a sign of disapproval by our government by the manner in which the canal treaty was disposed of. A. G. Snyder, the secretary of legation, will remain in charge at Bogota.

SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIANS.

Figures Showing the Growth of This Church in the Last Thirty Years.

In thirty years the Southern Presbyterians have grown from 105,956 to 235,142 members. The Rev. Dr. Landrith says of the progress:

"In that period it has gained one Synod, eighteen Presbyteries, 545 preachers and 1,280 churches. Its contributions to all purposes have been increased from $1,111,461 to $2,374, 648. It is still less than one fourth as large as the Northern Presbyterian church, and financially does less than one-eighth as much as the larger denomination, a fact which is not discreditable to the Southern church in view of its comparatively poor financial environments. During the past year the Southern church has made a net gain of 4,487 members, baptized 3,600 adults and 5,136 infants. The Sunday school membership is 176,664, while in the Northern church the Sunday school membership is larger than the church. In the Southern church there are more than two congregations for every minister, the number of churches being 3,044. There were sixty additions to the ministerial roll last year, and thirty-three to ministers lost a net gain of twenty-seven. A great, earnest, dignified and thoughtful church is the Southern Presbyterian communion. Its contribution to the Christian culture of the whole Southland is probably as great as any other denomination, however large, has made in the last generation; and when Presbyterian union comes we should be glad if it would embrace the Southern Presbyterian denomination. Indeed that consummation is one so devoutly to be wished that a little patient waiting for the ripeness of the time would be profitable to the Presbyterianism of America."

John Will Davis died at Davis from blood poison, having run a nail in his foot. He leaves a widow, nee Kitchen, and nine children. He was member of Leesburg Christian Church, and was son of the late Jonathan and Jane E. Davis. He leaves two brothers—Dr. J. D. Davis, of Maysville, Garrett Davis, of Riverside, Iowa, and two sisters—Mrs. Sarah Burgess, of Davis, and Mrs. Carrie Triplett, of Georgetown. Davis, the little village in Scott County, bears its name from deceased, who was once prominent merchant and postmaster at that place, afterwards resuming his former occupation, farming.—Paris Kentuckian.

A gentleman was at Washington this week inquiring of a friend there about getting servants. He said the last he had was a preacher, and a woman whom he called his wife, from West Virginia, and they hadn't been there long before another woman came upon the scene claiming him, which event caused the party to decamp, leaving various bills in the neighborhood unpaid for. The gentleman said the preacher (?) was one among the biggest rascals he ever met, but the woman was a fine servant. The Virginian beat some one out of a buggy, leaving without settling for same. When he went away he stretched himself on the seat of the omnibus in passing a store where he was in debt. The gentleman said he didn't want any more West Virginia preachers about him.

HOG AND HOMINY.

A Cincinnati Young Lady Says this Bill of Fare Takes the Romance Out of Trip Through Kentucky Mountains.

[Times Star.]

That's a bit of philosophy from the latest letter of a pretty Cincinnati girl who, with a party of girl friends, is "camping out" in old Kentucky. Miss May Walton, sister of Simeon Walton of 916 Morris street, Walnut Hills, is the Cincinnati girl who is enjoying the "camping out." Several weeks ago, when Miss Walton left Cincinnati for a visit with old friends in Mason county, Ky., she told the "girls" she would write and tell them of the times she was having in old Kentucky. Then came letters telling of a merry party of girls being formed to go on an exploring tour. The party of Kentucky girls decided it would be great fun to go camping and incidentally explore caves. Whether the girls have discovered any old treasures of gold and silver, Miss Walton has not yet written. At any rate the Cincinnati girls of her set have been on tiptoe of expectation to hear of miraculous finds in damp and gloomy caves. It sounds rather romantic to "go camping and exploring caves" and they builded hopes on these expeditions of the pretty Cincinnati girl. Every girl in Miss Walton's set in Cincinnati has been envying her. Letters from her telling of wagon rides and Kentucky hospitality only made matters worse. Then came letters telling of the scenery. The glorious Kentucky sunsets and the sunrise in the mountains were read in girls' circles, while delight was depicted on every face. Through the mysteries of Carter's cave the letters took the girls and they were duly impressed with its beauties. "Isn't she just having too jolly a time for anything," they all sighed. Forthwith the girls began to look up their family relations, even to the third and fourth degree cousins. For why? To see if any of their dear ones lived in that dear old Kentucky.

But they are not looking for Kentucky relatives any more. For a postal has just arrived that knocks in the head a project of the girls to hasten in a camping party to the Kentucky hills. And the line in that postal that strikes cold on the hopes of beautiful sunrises and glorious sunsets reads: "Hominy and bacon as bill of fare takes the romance out of Kentucky scenery."

So the Cincinnati girls have given up thoughts of a happy tent on a Kentucky mountain side and they are calmly eating ice cream, plum pudding, apple dumpling, etc., etc. Also pike, steak, roast, veal cutlets, etc., etc., and nobody seems to know exactly why the sudden craze for getting up a camping party to the Kentucky mountains has so suddenly subsided.

Dream Came True.

[Dover Messenger.]

One night last week Mrs. J. W. Hanna had a dream that impressed her to such an extent that she sought the pages of a dream book to interpret its meaning. The book revealed the meaning of the subject she dreamed about, and foretold that Mrs. Hanna would inherit a legacy from a deceased relative.

Monday she received a letter from Massachusetts, announcing the death of her uncle, Chas. Hubbard, and saying that she and others, heirs of her deceased mother, Mrs. Eliza P. Tabb, were entitled to Mr. Hubbard's estate.

We have not learned the value of the legacy, but only hope it may be quite a handsome one.

Items of Interest From Nearby Towns and Villages Contributed by the Bulletin's Corps of Correspondents.

GERMANTOWN, Oct. 31st, 1903.—A large crowd attended the dedication of the Union Church at Chatham.

Mrs. Amanda Frazee, of Flemingsburg, visited relatives in Mason the past week. The grip is prevalent in this vicinity. Gabe Preston, our old butcher, is back in our midst furnishing fresh meats.

Mrs. Amos Turney, of Paris, spent a week in Mason and Bracken counties, much to the delight of old friends and relatives. Messrs. Tom Bell, Jim Bell and Hon. S. D. Rigdon attended the Grand Lodge of K. of P. in Lexington and report a big time.

Ed. Sallee, of Texas, joined his family at Mrs. Humlong's on Monday. He reports a big crop on his rice plantation and is delighted with his new home.

Mr. Louis Anderson, of Huntington, and Miss Bessie Bradford, of Augusta, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Walton.

Mrs. T. T. Asbury will give at her home on the afternoon of the 11th and 12th of December an art display and sale of hand-painted china, burnt wood, paintings in water colors, etc.

Germantown came near having a disastrous fire Tuesday night. Mrs. Rigdon's china kiln situated in an out building exploded. Had it not been for fire extinguishers and the bucket brigade several houses might have burned. The building was burned, but the china in the kiln was not damaged.

The missionary tea at Mrs. Silas Robinson's was unique and enjoyable. The invitations sent out were written in rhyme composed by Mrs. R. The crowd was entertained by music and recitations, after which a beautiful and appetizing lunch was served. Then the pounds of all kinds the ladies were requested to bring, were auctioned off at good prices. Miss Julia Carpenter, of Millersburg, was quite a charm for the occasion. Her recitations were thoroughly enjoyed, and when chosen auctioneer proved quite an adept. Here's hoping the heathen will enjoy the proceeds as much as the ladies enjoyed the tea.

PLUMVILLE, Oct. 31.—Robert Mattingly will remove to Cincinnati the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Goodman have been entertaining a twelve-pound son at their home since Saturday.

LOST—Somewhere in Maysville Oct. 24th, probably in or near the Bee Hive, a $5 bill. Reward for return of same to this office. 29-43t

City Treasurer Fitzgerald reports $20,-810.54 as total amount of 1903 taxes collected last month, most of which was received last week.

The Bee Hive!

A Doll Sale and a Reward!

Twenty-two and one-half inches high, the best kid body, bisque head, hair parted in the center and a doll that sleeps is faint description of the doll that we now have on sale. PRICE $1.19, and it is the best $2 doll in the United States to-day.

THE REWARD!

As a proof that these dolls cannot be duplicated at this price in this country we will give to the first person a TEN DOLLAR GOLD PIECE, that can prove that any store in the United States is selling a doll as large as ours, as fine and as good in every respect and the same quantity to sell that we have. The home of these dolls is a little village in Germany, where an old German by the name of Kurtz, famous for doll making, his father and his father's father made dolls and now his children and his grand-children are learning. We gave the order to his son to send them direct to us and now you wonder how we found out this little doll home, but that's our business. The price is $1.19 for the best doll in this country and it's not too soon to begin dressing them. Come and bring the children.

MERZ BROS

HEAVY LOSS.

Mr. Langhorne Anderson's Large Stock Barn Burned to Ground and Eleven Horses Perish in Flames.

Mr. Langhorn T. Anderson met with a heavy loss between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning.

The large barn at his stock farm on the Lexington pike near the city burned to the ground, together with the contents, consisting of a carriage and several other vehicles, a lot of harness and a large quantity of feed. The heaviest loss, however, was on his fine stable of horses, eleven or twelve of them perishing in the flames. Three of these horses had been sold Monday,—one for $350, one for $450 and the other for $500. He valued the horses at from $300 to $500 each.

It is not known how the fire originated. No one sleeps in the barn. Mr. James Wallace, a neighbor, was the first to discover the flames, and hastened to arouse the family. When Mr. Anderson was awakened, the building was a mass of flames, and nothing could be done towards saving any of the animals or vehicles. The fire was no doubt the work of an incendiary.

Mr. Anderson places his loss at fully $5,000.

The building was partially insured in the Farmers' Mutual Aid Association of this county, and there was an insurance of about $150 a head on the horses. The harness and vehicles were not insured.

Mr. Anderson has the sympathy of his many friends in his misfortune.

L. H. Young & Co., proprietors of the Racket Store, closed a lease Monday for the Newell building, just west of the State National Bank, and will move into it some time this month. The firm find a larger building necessary for their business, and negotiations have been in progress some time for the Newell house. It will be repaired and improved before the firm moves into it, but Mr. Young hopes to occupy it by Nov. 15th.

Mrs. Nicholas Mace, formerly of this city, died last week at her home in Covington, aged seventy-nine, and was buried on Thursday in that city.

Lost, Sunday, between residence of W. T. Cummins and C. and O. depot, a ladies' gold watch, with inscription "From Mother to Mary" on it. Reward for return of same to this office.

Mr. Langhorne T. Anderson sold Monday two fancy saddle horses—one to go to New York and one to London, England. These horses were among those that perished in the fire this morning. During the past few months he has sold twelve to fifteen horses at fancy prices.

Frank Adams, colored, of the Fifth ward, was tried at Georgetown, O., last week for cutting and wounding another negro at Ripley during the fair in August. Judge Hutchins defended him and succeeded in securing his acquittal. Judge Markley complimented Judge Hutchins at the close for his able defense of the case.

In these days of elaborate investiture of theatrical productions, the successful manager must look as carefully to the mechanical detail of the pieces which he presents as to the selection of his company. "In the Palace of the King," which Miss Helen Grantly and company will produce at the Washington Opera House Monday November 16th contains six scenes, each and every one being models of beauty. Every piece of furniture and garniture necessary to enhance the correctness and attractiveness of these scenes is carried by the organization.

Manager Yale's claim that the "Devil's Auction" is the oldest in name yet the newest in point of novelty can well be substantiated in this the 22nd edition of this famous spectacle, as everything is new from the time the curtain rises on the first act until it is rung down on the beautiful transformation scene, "A Tribute to Our Country," at the close of the performance. Maysville theater-goers certainly have a treat in store for them Wednesday, November 4th. Seats now on sale at Ray's.

Manager Russell, Dye and Frank and Business Manager Hamilton, of the Washington Opera House, have this to say regarding the coming engagement of Charles H. Yale's "Everlasting Devil's Auction," Wednesday, November 4th. "This production will be complete in every detail, every one of the forty-six 'drops' will be used, (being twenty-two more than was used last season) and every bit of 'set stuff' (two big four-horse truck loads), and with the large company of forty-two people you will have the same great production as would be seen in any city theater." Tell your friends about it and come yourself. Seats now on sale at Ray's drug store.

They were tugging away at a spring wagon, when he broke in on their fun. There was a hasty fight through the alleys, but the officer finally overhauled one of the lads and marched him before Chief of Police Donovan. The latter ordered the youngster to return the wagon to the proper place, and he was only too anxious to comply.
